

A Study About African American Women and Preterm Births

Researchers at the University of Illinois Hospital & Health Sciences System want to learn more about reasons that can lead to preterm births. Research is Voluntary.

Study May Be a Good Fit for you if:

- You are African American Female
- At least 15 years old
- Less than 24 weeks pregnant

If you decide to volunteer for this study, you will have:

- A total of 5 visits, about 1 visit per month, for 1-2 hours, where you will have an ultrasound & complete a questionnaire.
- You will have 3 blood samples collected.
- There is NO cost to you and you will be reimbursed up to $250 for your time and participation. This study is NOT testing any drugs or treatments.

Where will the research take place?

The visits will take place at 912 S. Wood St in the Clinical Research Center in Suite 200

The Researcher conducting this study is Dr. Rosemary White-Traut, 845 S. Damen Ave, Chicago, IL 60612. IRB #2011-0605.

To learn how to volunteer, call 312-996-7929!

